

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY August 15—6 P. M.

The stock market was very unsettled at the opening this morning, and the transactions were only to a moderate extent, but they were principally for cash. A wide difference still exists between prices for cash and those on time, buyer's option, showing the scarcity of money and the continued certain operators have in the future movement of the market. At the first board to-day Florence and Newport declined 1% per cent; Niagara Falls, 1%; Metallo Gold, 1%; Erie Railroad, 1%; Hudson Railroad, 1%; Canton Company advanced 1% per cent; Pennsylvania Coal, 1%; Cumberland Coal, 1%; Parker Coal, 1%; Steamington, 1%; Reading Railroad, 1%. The brokers are not as hard up as they have been, but the outside pressure is hourly increasing. The mercantile classes are seriously embarrassed, and we should not be surprised to hear of numerous suspensions. The first commercial paper rolls ready in the street, at one per cent per month, and the most extravagant rates have been offered for short loans. The demand for money from the merchants, exceeds anything we have known for years. If this continues for any length of time, the consequences must be most disastrous. During easy times, when money was cheap and abundant, the mercantile classes were large operators in fancy stocks, as purchasers for a rise. The recent contraction in the banking movement has compelled them to put their stocks on the market, and in realizing, they have submitted to very great sacrifices. The brokers have not, as a general thing, been sufferers by the heavy decline in prices. They have, on the contrary, been benefited, by the activity given to the market by the forced sales. The losses by depreciation have fallen principally on parties out of Wall street.

As the Mining Board to-day the transactions were quite limited. We quote the following sales:

100 Phoenix Gold... 100 New N. C. Copper... 64
100 Parker Coal... 100 Middleb. Lead... 14

The receipts at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of this port, to day, amounted to $19,388 66; of the payments to-day, $700 00—balance, $8,000 109 56. Of the payments to-day, $700 00 were appropriated to pay mint certificates.

The annexed table, from our second edition of yesterday, exhibits the average condition of the leading departments in each of the New York city banks, for the week ending and including Saturday, August 13—
